

Alice Crothers, Associate

Alice (Weddington) Crothers is a native of Knoxville, Tennessee. While attending Carson Newman University, Alice met her husband, Caleb. Alice earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration in 2005. In 2006 Alice earned a Masters of Public Health in Administration from the University of Tennessee.

Alice served as a healthcare administrator for a pulmonary/critical care and hospitalist practice until returning the farm in 2015. Alice is the Treasurer of Long Green Farms. She hosts the Adopt a Cow program for the state of Maryland with the American Dairy Association North East. Alice serves as an Associate on the Cecil County Soil Conservation District Board and as a Regional Council Representative for Land O' Lakes. Alice is a graduate of Class 12 Young Dairy Leaders Institute from the Holstein Foundation.

Caleb and Alice have three spunky daughters; Saralyon, Henley and Baylor.

